September 7th Labor Day Celebration with a cookout for the staff and residents and a corn hole tournament.

Fall Prevention Tips

Speak up. Tell a provider right away if you fall, worry about falling, or feel unsteady. Have your doctor or pharmacist review all the medicines you take, even over-the-counter medicines.

Keep moving. Exercises that improve balance and make your legs stronger, lower your chances of falling. It also helps you feel better and more confident.

Have your eyes and feet checked. At least once a year, check with your eye doctor, and update your eyeglasses, if needed.

Make your home safer. Keep floors clutter-free. Install grab bars in the bathroom and handrails in all staircases. Use automatic nightlights in hallways, bathrooms, and other frequently used areas. Source: cdc.gov

Grandparents Day: September 12

One of the biggest blessings you can have in life is grandparents.

For starters, think about the wealth of knowledge that your grandparents have to share. They are extraordinary people! They have lived many years, and have stories to tell that could expand our horizons. They have seen the world change in many ways. The next time you have a free afternoon ask them about their lives and the things they have learned. Ask if they have any “words of wisdom” for you. You’ll be amazed how much practical life advice comes from grandparents.

Having a relationship with your grandparents can be really fun. Many grandparents can be more relaxed than parents and will often spend more time, energy and money on things that parents would never agree to. Grandparents are usually happy to extend bedtime or allow an extra dessert on special occasion.

Many grandparents love to spend time with their grandchildren but are just unsure of how to initiate the relationship. Make an effort to go out of your way this Grandparents Day and get to know each other via in-person visit, text message, video chat or social media! But don’t forget everyone loves to get mail, so get creative and write a letter or create your very own card craft to brighten their day. You’ll never regret the time and effort you put into spending quality time with your grandparents.

Resident of the Month

Austin M. – Austin is a 29 year old who came to live on Parkside’s respiratory unit in January of 2020. He enjoys playing ball and you will never see him without one of his babies. Austin loves being the life of the party and always dresses up and attends themed activities such as Hawaiian Day. He also enjoys BINGO and watching Disney channel. His favorite foods are cookies and cereal both covered in chocolate milk. If you ever need a smile just go see Austin and he will brighten up your day!

The Power of Courtesy and Kindness

Do you want to become a kinder person?

Here is an affirmation that may help to create a new form of kindness mentality:

“I am now courteous and kind to everyone I meet.”

Now, what if just seeing another person, automatically triggered this mantra? How would your actions change toward them? How much broader would you smile? How would it change your conversation?

This is simple, yet powerful affirmation and if you use it often enough, you may start to notice many wonderful things may start to happen to you and those around you. And finally, if enough people start to think this way, someday the whole world may see a change.

Employee of the Month: Ericka J.

While you are walking through Parkside you will smell that wonderful aromas of a home cooked meal. You can bet that it was cooked by one of our two amazing cooks. The management and residents could not agree more that our cook Ericka deserved employee of the month for her hard work and dedication to making amazing meals for our residents here at Parkside. We are blessed to have Ericka on our team.

Emergency Preparedness Month

No one can prepare your family for a disaster like you can, because you know the personal health needs of your family best.

Get started by knowing the basics:

- Create an emergency water supply of at least one gallon of water per day for each person and pet. A two-week supply is better. Strongly consider storing even more water if you live in a hot climate, for pregnant women, and for family members who are sick.
- Your emergency supplies kit is not a dumping ground for all the forgotten things in your pantry. Take into consideration your family's dietary needs, likes and dislikes, and—of course—any food allergies and medical conditions when choosing foods for your kit.
- Are you one of the many millions of Americans who take a prescription medication as part of your daily routine? If so, be prepared with an ample supply of medications and the devices and supplies necessary to take or administer the prescription.
- Remember to update your supplies every six months and/or if the needs of your family change. Remove, use, and replace any food and store-bought water, prescription medications, and supplies before they expire.
- Invest in emergency lighting, safe heating alternatives, and backup power sources for your cellphone and home-use medical devices.
- Fully charge your cellphone, medical devices, and back-up power sources if you know a disaster, like a hurricane, is likely to strike your area.

A National Day of Service and Remembrance

Saturday, September 11, 2021 marks the 20th anniversary of the World Trade Center terrorist attacks in New York City. Also, known as Patriot Day, it is a tribute to nearly 3,000 lives lost or injured, as well as an opportunity to honor first responders and defenders of our nation's freedom.

An annual ceremony takes place at Ground Zero where the World Trade Center was rebuilt; now the tallest building in the Western hemisphere, with the largest man-made waterfall and two sunken pools, the footprints of the original Twin Towers. The commemoration includes a reading of names and six minutes of silence: two minutes for the moments each tower was hit, two minutes when each fell, one minute for the Pentagon crash and one minute for the crash of flight 93. The commemoration recognizes the hope, resilience and unity of the United States.

Sepsis Awareness Month

Sepsis happens when an infection you already have—in your skin, lungs, urinary tract, or somewhere else—triggers a chain reaction throughout your body. Most sepsis is caused by bacterial infections, but it can be a complication of other infections, including viral infections, such as COVID-19 or influenza. Anyone can get an infection, and almost any infection can lead to sepsis. Some people are at higher risk.

Know the signs and symptoms of sepsis may include:

- High heart rate or low blood pressure
- Fever, shivering, or feeling very cold
- Confusion or disorientation
- Shortness of breath
- Extreme pain or discomfort
- Clammy or sweaty skin

Sepsis is a medical emergency. If you or your loved one has an infection that's not getting better or is getting worse, act fast! Get medical care immediately either in-person, or at minimum, through telehealth services, if available. Ask your healthcare professional, "Could this infection be leading to sepsis?" and if you should go to the emergency room for medical assessment. Source: cdc.gov
